MUSEUM OF OIL AND GAS

There is hardly ever a place where you can find so many details about the process of production and processing of hydrocarbons oil and oil gathering

The most important trend in the development of information systems in modern cultural institutions is integration into a single information space and ensuring the openness of information resources that give access to cultural heritage objects to a wide audience of users around the world.

The main task of the museum is to acquaint visitors with the history of development and features of the production activities of one of the largest oil and gas producing enterprises in our country.

Museums that are repositories of cultural and documentary heritage seek to present the composition of their collections and collections as fully as possible, attract attention to them, and expand the number of visitors using digital images, audio and video resources, and Internet information and search engines.
